Continuation of Our Semi-Annual Clearance Sale.

These twice-yearly Stock Clearance Sales are as important a part of our business as the opening of new goods when a new season comes. Were it not so, we would not be able to start a new season with an absolutely new stock. And so, at this time, the whole store brings forward its special offerings. Many are not advertised because lots are too small to meet the demand that would come from such an announcement. But these things dot every section of the store today.

All surpluses, all broken assortments, odds and ends and the like must go for the sake of eased labor as well as for the sake of their room, hence we have made the prices extraordinarily low, and if you have any particular want, the chances are you can satisfy it with a smaller out-

The A. F. L. Knows Nothing Regarding Miners' Demand for Protection.

In reference to the proposed request for governmental protection from the deported miners in case of their return to Cripple Creek, no word has as yet been received, it is stated at the headquarters of the Federation of Labor in this city. Mr. Frank Morrison, secretary of the Federation, said to a Star reporter today that he had been erroneously quoted and made to say that the matter would have to be settled by "the federal government." What he did say, according to his statement today, was that the matter would doubtless be settled "in the federal courts."

In a greeting "to organized labor of America," issued from the national head-quarters of the Federation of Labor over the signatures of President Samuel Gompers and Secretary Frank Morrison, it is stated that "in Colorado civil law and constitutional rights are trampled under foot and flagrantly violated.

The rule of gun and bayonet is supreme and doing the bidding of the most unscrupulous organization of men who are prompted by no other thought or purpose than avarice, greed and power—the mine owners organized as the Citizens' Alliance. They have Gov. Peabody absolutely under their thumb. He is doing their bidding and carrying out the bargain entered into prior to his election, to prevent the enactment of the eight-hour law by the Colorado legislature, and which enactment is directly commanded by the constitution of that

"In view of the critical situation of affairs in Colorado, and the fact that there is not now and may not for some time to be fair opportunity for the miners of Col-orado to have accorded to them and maintained by the courts of that state the rights to which the men are entitled, both in accordance with the laws and constitution of Colorado and the United States, we are firmly of the opinion that their only redress is to and through federal courts of the United States.

"And inasmuch as there are unlimited millions at the disposal of the mine own-ers of Colorado in their lawless and brutal attempt to rob the men of their organiza-tion and their liberty (and if they deem necessary of their very lives), in the interest not only of the labor movement, but in the interest of justice and right, fair dealing, the protection of the rights and liberties and lives, the rights for which the labor movement stands.

"We appeal to all organized labor and friends to not only give their moral but financial assistance, so that the great question of constitutional liberty, human rights and civil government may be properly presented and defended, and we hope finally proclaimed and sustained by the federal country of our country." courts of our country." The germs will not travel as fast as the flow of water, he believes, since they will likely go to the bottom with other refuse matter and their progress down stream will be impeded. It is not believed that the typhoid fever cases noted here at this time are due to germs of the disease from Mt. Savage, but it is again stated that residents of Washington should take the precaution to boil the Potomac river water in order to avoid infection with any germs that may be lurking therein. The health department states that boiled water is not injurious to the system, but that some persons object to drinking it on account of a certain flat taste of the water after boiling. This flat taste, it is stated, can be prevented by pouring the

In Memoriam. CLARRIDGE. In faithful remembrance of my mother, Mrs. M. A. CLARRIDGE, who died August 29, 1893.

Death alone divided us.

BY HER ONLY REMAINING CHILD, MRS. F. CLARRIDGE WEDDING. GARDNER. Passed away on August 12, at his home, Richmond Hill, L. I., GEORGE CLINTON GARDNER. He was the son of Col. Chas. K Gardner and Ann Eliza McLean Gardner and grandson of Gen. John McLean, the first commissary general of New York. He has left a widow, four daughters and one son and a sister, the widow of Rear Admiral John J. Almy, U. S. N. Mr. Gardner was a noble gentleman and possessed many strong and sterling qualities. Noteworthy among them was a rather hypersensitiveness of honor. So highminded was he, so jealous of the integrity of his conscience, that he ruthlessly repelled opportunities for self-aggrandizement which many men less sensitive to honor might entertain to their own apparent benefit. He was certainly great in various aspects of his character. His sterling honesty, his true friendship and his loyalty to conscience must ever prove like beacon lights to guide those who knew and loved him more safely through the trials and temptations of this mortal life.

WANN. In sad but loving remembrance of my daughter, LILLIE J. SWANN, who died two years ago today, August 29, 1902. May her soul rest in peace
